FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE!

The Global Freedom Report returns June 2, 2012!

The extremely popular The Global Freedom Report returns to the broadcast airwaves in a new expanded three-hour weekly format, Saturdays from 5:00-8:00 pm U.S. eastern time (10:00 pm-1:00 am GMT), starting June 2, 2012, on The Micro Effect Broadcast Network and on WWCR 9.350 MHz. international short-wave.

Host Brent Johnson's expertise in sovereignty and the U.S. Constitution, along with his ability to present workable solutions to complex issues in a clear and understandable format, has established a winning formula for this entertaining and informative radio talk show.

"The principles of truth, justice, freedom, honesty and integrity are fundamental to all people; they are not the exclusive property of the United States or the American people," says Johnson. "Freedom is a universal right, and today, more people in more places on our planet are finding their freedoms under attack by corporate-government partnerships.

"Every human is entitled to live his or her life free from outside control, whether by governments in the name of maintaining order, or corporations on behalf of greater profits. Neither justifies encroachments on the natural right to live free."

The Global Freedom Report is a radio talk show featuring important guests speaking about significant issues of concern to all freedom-lovers. Listeners are invited to call in to ask questions and share their views. The show also brings together international correspondents from around the world.

The new extended show format will allow for more in-depth interviews. The Global Freedom Report will feature the always popular Lessons in Liberty, where listeners learn strategies and techniques to preserve freedom and privacy; plus regular commentaries from Rep. Ron Paul and constitutional scholar Michael Badnarik, as well as monthly reports from global elite insider Lindsey Williams and economic and political analyst Bob Chapman, and regular visits with Real Life Superheroes.

Brent Johnson is the director of Freedom Bound International, a common law service center teaching people how to live free the way the American Founding Fathers envisioned freedom.
